Tyree's Antiseptic Powder

Is the Greatest Purifying Preparation Known to Medical Science

It's common-sense crystallized into handy shape—for SAFE and convenient use. No less valuable in keeping the healthy healthy, than in repairing the tissues already invaded by bacterial disease.

Exceptionally adapted for use in the douche; so gentle in its action that the most sensitive membranes are responsive to its soothing effect.

It does ALL the good that the poisonous bichloride of mercury tablets, carbolic acid, &c., can—with none of their terrible danger from mistaken use.

COTTON ABOARD CRETEC BURNS AT HER PIER

Fire Causes Panic Among Italian Reservists Ready to Sail for Genoa.

NEW YORK, September 26.—Sixteen hundred bales of cotton, stored in the lower hold of the White Star liner Cretic, caught fire this morning as the vessel lay at her pier under steam and ready to weigh anchor for Genoa. Several hundred Italian reservists, crowded into the steerage overnight, were routed by smoke and fled in scant attire to the pier.

The fire gained headway rapidly. Within fifteen minutes from the time that the first wisps of smoke curled up from the second hatchway the blaze in the hold appeared to be a roaring furnace, and soon smoke hung in heavy clouds over the river. For nearly an hour the fire raged practically unchecked. Then there came alongside the burning vessel two of the city's fireboats. These boats pumped hundreds of gallons of water upon the Cretic's decks.

Damage Confined to Cotton. It was after 10 o'clock before the fire seemed to be under control. The ship herself, it was said, did not catch fire, and the damage was confined to the cotton in the hold.

This cotton was consigned to Naples. Officers of the line said the Cretic proudly would be able to sail today. The origin of the fire was not determined, but it was thought that the blaze might have been started by a lighted cigarette or cigar tossed into the hold.

Marshall Field, 3d, to Manage Estate
CHICAGO, September 26.—Marshall Field, 3d, one of the heirs to the one-hundred-million-dollar estate of his grandfather, Marshall Field, arrived here today from England, prepared to go to work Monday to learn the business of managing the estate of which he is a trustee. He will be twenty-one years old Monday, and in three years will receive $450,000 from the income of the estate.

Tracts Not to Exceed Ten Acres Each
Leases for purely local needs would be made in tracts not to exceed ten acres to any one person or association without royalty or land charge.

Should any one of the leases attempt to monopolize the product or form a part of an unlawful trust or conspiracy to control more than 2,500 acres of coal land, the leases would be forfeited by court proceedings.

A provision of the bill would direct that no person employed under ground should work more than eight hours a day.

SENATE TAKES UP ALASKA COAL BILL

Amendment by Mr. Shafroth Provides for Sales, in Addition to Leasing.

The Senate took up again today the Alaska coal lands leasing bill. Senator Shafroth offered an amendment providing that the lands could be sold outright as well as leased.

"I am convinced," said Senator Shafroth, "that what will be sold to the consumers cheaper and a system which permits the private ownership of the mines than under a leasing system. And, after all, what we wish to do is to put this coal into the hands of the consumer at the lowest possible rate."

In the past it has always proved that coal was sold cheaper under a system which permitted ownership than under a leasing system.

Senator Shafroth said that coal was sold in large quantities at the mines in this country, where the ownership system has prevailed, at $1.11 a ton, whereas in Nova Scotia, New Zealand, Australia and other places, where a leasing system has prevailed, the price has ranged above $2.

Differs From House Bill.
The measure as now framed differs from that recently passed by the house in many particulars. It provides that 25 cents an acre for the first year, 50 cents an acre for the second year, 50 cents an acre for the third, fourth and fifth years and $1 per acre thereafter, the rentals to be credited against the royalty.

TEACHERS WILL MEET THROUGHOUT THE WEEK

District Public Schools Practically Organized So Far as Classes Are Concerned.

With the District public schools practically organized so far as the arrangement of classes is concerned, next week is expected to be one full of teachers' meetings. Meetings with heads of various departments will be frequent, and the teachers will receive their instructions as to how to carry on their work this year, particularly in regard to the new courses of study.

The work will be done under the direction of Ernest L. Thurston, superintendent of schools. Mr. Thurston plans to continue his assembly plan of last year during the present term. By this arrangement the teachers and the officials are brought into closer contact, and through the numerous meetings by calls new ideas and experiences in each part of the system are spread throughout Washington's public educational world.

To Explain in Detail.
To Alexander T. Stuart, director of intermediate instruction, and Miss Elizabeth V. Brown, director of primary instruction, will fall the work of explaining in detail the new study courses. How they should be followed will be explained to the teachers of the four upper grades by Mr. Stuart, while Miss Brown will outline the methods to be used in the four lower grades.

Four New Courses of Study.
That he was going to do his best to make this an educational year in the schools of Washington was the thought which Supt. Thurston made evident to his auditors. He spoke of the fact that four new courses of study are now complete and that present conditions are excellent. He urged the teachers to work as hard as possible with the individual child and try to keep the children from losing time through retardation. The spirit of unity throughout the system is now good, said Mr. Thurston, and he urged that this spirit be constantly spread.

Commerce Attaches for World Capitals
Secretary Redfield Appoints Group of Workers Under Law Recently Passed.

Under the new law authorizing commercial attaches of the United States at principal world capitals, Secretary Redfield today appointed the following: A. T. Harrington of Ohio, to Lima, Peru; A. H. Baldwin, former chief of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, to London; Dr. Albert Hale, now with the bureau of Pan-American Republics, to Buenos Aires; Edwin M. Thompson of North Carolina, to Berlin; and J. H. Arnold, former consul general at Hankow, to Peking; Prof. Lincoln Hutchinson of the University of California, to Rio; C. W. A. Veditz of Pennsylvania, to Paris. Seven more are to be named later.

No Reflection on U. S. Consul.
It is explained by State Department officials that the transfer of Henry V. Diederich, American consul general at Antwerp, to Barcelona, Spain, was not the result of any official complaint, but because it was deemed better for all concerned if Mr. Diederich were at a post outside of Belgium, where the German coal owners to execute the contract for supplying the Portuguese railways, the contract has reverted to a British colliery.

Losses Coal Trade to England.
LONDON, September 26.—It is announced by the Newcastle coal exchange that owing to the inability of the German coal owners to execute the contract for supplying the Portuguese railways, the contract has reverted to a British colliery.

WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS SERVED ON ARMY OFFICER

Divorced Wife of Maj. Otwell Introduces Proceedings to Obtain Custody of Children.

Justice Gould of the District Supreme Court issued a writ of habeas corpus today directed to Maj. Curtis W. Otwell, United States Engineer Corps, requiring him to have in court Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock his two children, aged seven and nine years. The writ was obtained by the divorced wife of the officer, Mrs. Rachel V. Otwell, who seeks the custody of the children.

The Otwells were married in the Philippines Islands September 4, 1903, the court is told, and were divorced at Independence, Kan., March 25, 1913. Although the decree was against the wife on charges of cruelty, she was awarded alimony and given the custody of the children.

Temporarily in Father's Care.
The children lived with her, the wife says, until last summer, when she allowed them to go temporarily to the father's home in Chevy Chase, expecting to return September 1.

Without her knowledge or consent, Mrs. Otwell says, the officer removed the children to Independence, Kan., and is now unlawfully withholding them from her and she is unable to regain their custody without aid of the court.

Policeman Creaghe Dies, Was Taken Ill Sunday
Captured Benjamin Snell in 1899 After Latter Had Murdered a Little Girl.

Mounted Policeman Patrick Creaghe of the third precinct, one of the best known members of the metropolitan police force, died at 1 o'clock this morning at his home, 357 H street southwest.

Policeman Creaghe was taken ill Sunday, and had been confined to his home since that time. Death was due to uremic poison. He was born in England August 28, 1862, and when a young man came to Philadelphia. He enlisted in the United States Army, and in 1880 received an honorable discharge. July 1, 1887, he was appointed a member of the metropolitan police force, and two years later was mounted.

Caught Slayer of Girl.
While mounted and connected with the ninth precinct, August 6, 1899, he made his most noted arrest when he captured Benjamin Snell, who had but a few hours before murdered a little girl. Policemen throughout the District were searching for Snell. Policeman Creaghe was patrolling the Benning road, when he saw Snell, who was thought to be making an effort to get away. He arrested him, and he was later convicted for the crime June 29, 1900.

The funeral will be held from his residence at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning at St. Dominic's Church, where solemn high requiem mass will be sung at 8:30 o'clock.

Heavy Drop in Exports for Month of August
Figures More Than $77,000,000 Less Than for the Same Month Last Year.

American exports fell off considerably in August, as compared with August, 1913, as a result of the hostilities in Europe, according to a bulletin just issued by the Department of Commerce. Trade with Germany practically was at a standstill, while that to France and Great Britain had not been so seriously interrupted. Trade to Belgium and Argentina, which depends largely on foreign shipping, suffered heavily.

DISTRICT FILES PROTEST AT CARING FOR LEPER

Commissioners Give Secretary McAdoo Five Reasons Why U. S. Should Look After Early.

Five reasons why the District of Columbia should not be burdened with the cost of maintaining John R. Early, the leper, are advanced by the Commissioners in a letter sent today to Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo.

Receiving no reply to a similar communication sent to the Treasury Department head June 4, the Commissioners this morning renewed their efforts to ascertain what, if any, liability the federal government is willing to assume with respect to the maintenance of the leper, who is now confined in a quarantine station near the Eastern branch.

Never Was District Resident.
Early, they point out, never was a resident of the District and has no claim upon this municipality. In view of this and the fact that he contracted leprosy in the service of the United States Army; that his first visit to Washington was for the purpose of transacting business with the purpose of the government; that his second and third visits were in violation of the quarantine regulations promulgated by the Secretary of the Treasury; that his presence here now is due to his departure in violation of law from a United States quarantine reservation (the Diamond Head reservation, near Port Townsend, Wash.), his maintenance by the District, the Commissioners contend, places upon the District a considerable expense to which it should not be subjected.

Because of the expense of maintaining Early, the health department today asked for an increase in the amount allowed the department for personal services in the contagious disease bureau. By order of the Commissioners of August 4, 1914, the quarterly expenditures are limited to $3,000, which leaves a balance at the close of the month of $1,500. To meet the pay roll of the last half of the current month, about $500 in excess of the balance will be required.

No Conclusion Reached as to Possible Investigation in Primary Expense Matters.
The Senate committee on privileges and elections today failed to reach any conclusion on the Norris resolution providing for an investigation of the expenditures of the recent senatorial primaries in Pennsylvania and Illinois, and took a recess until next Wednesday.

Carl S. Vrooman of Illinois, assistant secretary of agriculture, was again before the committee, in connection with the charges made against Roger Sullivan, the democratic nominee for the Senate in Illinois. It had been expected that Senator Vrooman, the republican nominee, would be on hand to discuss the charges that Senator Sullivan, the republican nominee, had spent an excessive amount in his campaign, but they did not materialize.

Power Boats Fined.
M. C. Clarke Notified He Must Pay Sum of $350 in One Case.

M. C. Clarke, owner of several wood and lumber running schooners in service on Chesapeake bay and the Potomac river, has been notified of the imposition by Collector of Customs Stone of a fine of $350 on a motor boat, but the letter notifying him of the fine gives no information as to what vessel the tender belongs.

Mr. Clarke has written the department for further information in the matter, as it may be the boat charged with violation of the marine laws does not belong to one of his vessels. The letter stated that $250 of the amount of the fine was for not having pilot rules and whistle on his boat, and the other for being without bell and pilot rules.

The second session of the fifteenth annual convention of the Maryland School Association began at Hagwood, Md., yesterday, with devotion services by Rev. R. H. Elton, rector of St. John's P. E. Church.
